Quinta dos Roques, Mangualde, Dão

When the wines of Quinta dos Roques are swirled in a glass they opened up and tell us stories of their origins and their maker. Fine and clear aromas tell us of a clean modern winery and correct wine making techniques. A bouquet reach of fruits, blackberries and stewed plums reveal and outstanding terroir. Cocoa, coffee and cloves suggest the use of precious wood used for aging the wine.

Quinta dos Roques find itself in the Dão region, neighbor to the Port wine producing area. This modern estate is run by the owner Manuel Lopes di Oliverira and oenologist Rui Reguinga. The 40 hectares land surrounding the winery were all replanted with new vines in the 80's. The choice of the grapes variety has focused solely on indigenous grapes like Tourriga Nacional, Jean, Alfrocheiro Preto, Tinta Rovit and Tinata Pinheira.
